Easter Enchantment at The Brown Palace Hotel

DENVER (March 16, 2010) – Adults and children alike will find a wondrous trove of Easter delights, ranging from Breakfast with the Easter Bunny, Easter afternoon tea, lavish brunch, and a decadent splurge in Palace Arms.

At Breakfast with the Easter Bunny, little ones will enjoy a child-sized buffet with breakfast favorites, an Easter egg hunt, and photos with the Easter Bunny, Saturday, April 3. Children 5 and under start at *$10.95, adults start at *$31.95.

Afternoon Tea is the perfect setting for little girls in pastels and pearls. Patrons will enjoy a pot of properly brewed tea accompanied by house-made scones, savory tea sandwiches, and a delightful array of Easter tea pastries, including carrot cake, lemon meringue and pineapple upside down cake. Children 12 and under start at *$17.50, adults start at *$35. Sunday's Easter tea will feature a live jazz trio.

Those looking to leave their aprons behind can enjoy an enticing treat with Chef Thanawat Bates' brunch brilliance in Palace Arms. A prix fixe four-course menu gives guests choices like bread pudding French toast with toffee sauce and banana gelato; a Cubano Benedict; or a Southern favorite – chicken and waffles; followed by a sweet finale like rhubarb tart with raspberry compote and white chocolate ice cream, or Thanawat's twist on a banana split. Sunday, April 4, *$69 per person.

The ultimate Easter brunch presentation will be at Ellyngton's, Sunday, April 4, featuring a wide selection of egg and waffle creations; cooked- and carved-to-order items; a large salad, seafood and sushi presentation; chef-prepared desserts and a chocolate fountain; and three choices of champagne. Each table will be presented with an Easter egg upon check-out and two lucky winners will find a voucher for an overnight stay at the hotel in their egg. Starting at *$56.95 per person. (Children start at *$17.95.)

Does not include tax and gratuity.*
